Looking for the perfect gift for the pet lover on your shopping list? Look no further!

5 reasons your pet needs Pet Jerky Treats and Pet Oral Hygiene Solution every day

1. Pets need meat in their diet

Pet Jerky Treats are loaded with high-quality protein that can provide a valuable daily source of animal protein — MEAT — in their diets. Protein is an important component of every cell in your pet's body because it is an essential building block of bones, muscles, cartilage, skin and blood. Plus, feeding your pet a quality protein can reduce organ stress over time. Pet Jerky is loaded with 22 percent high-quality protein — that's far more than the leading store brand of pet protein treats.

2. Dental disease is the “Silent Killer” of pets

Pet Oral Hygiene Solution reduces plaque and tartar buildup that can lead to life-threatening periodontal disease, the Number 1 health issue for dogs and cats. An alarming 80 percent of dogs and 70 percent of cats show signs of periodontal disease by age three. Called the “Silent Killer of Pets,” periodontal disease can cause bacteria to enter the bloodstream and infect the heart, liver and kidneys — shortening your pet's life by two to five years.

3. It will keep them spry and young at heart

Think "Fountain of Youth," served in a great-tasting treat. Pet Jerky Treats keep pets agile and energetic. Over time, muscles may tighten and joint cartilage can wear, while diminishing lubricating joint fluid becomes less slippery. All this can cause discomfort and reduce mobility. Offering Pet Jerky daily can keep pets active and feeling good. The glucosamine and chondroitin keep joint cartilage in good repair and joint fluid in sufficient amounts, while MSM helps reduce inflammation and increase flexibility.

4. Nobody wants their pet to suffer

Dental disease causes your pet unnecessary pain. Pets with early gum disease generally don't show any signs at all, except for a little bad breath. As the problem progresses, the gums become very red and sore, and your pet may not want to chew hard food. Pets often rub their mouths with their paws or against other surfaces. If you've ever experienced an excruciating toothache, you have a good idea of what pets with dental disease are going through.

5. Nothing supports your pet's dental and overall health better

The winning combo of Pet Jerky Treats and Pet Oral Hygiene Solution offers the best of both worlds: A delicious snack that's actually good for your pet, and a simple-to-use solution you just pour in their water bowl daily. These sweet treats are sure to make both you and your pet smile!
